General

1. The Ministry of Social Welfare, Relief and Resettlement is the responsible Ministry to submit reports on CEDAW and CRC to the United Nations and reports to ASEAN as well. The Ministry has formed a report-writing committee (drafting committee) comprising of representatives from related Ministries and non-governmental organizations.
2. The representatives of the Ministry of Health, Ministry of Education, Ministry of Labor, Ministry of Home Affairs, Ministry of Progress of Border Areas and National Races and Development Affairs, Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Office of Chief Justice and Attorney General's Office are members of the committee. Also the representatives of nation-wide NGOs, such as Myanmar Women's Affairs Federation (MWAF), Myanmar Maternal and Child Welfare Association (MMCWA), Union Solidarity and Development Association (USDA), Myanmar Women Sports Federation (MWSF) and Myanmar Women Entrepreneurs' Association (MWEA) take part in the committee. Altogether, there are 25 members in the committee.
3. The report-writing committee set up a core group with relevant Departments and Organizations in order to collect information effectively.
4. The committee, after holding meetings, issued initial, first and second draft reports and circulated to the concerned departments for comments, suggestions and confirmation. The third draft was considered by the Myanmar National Committee for Women Affairs (MNCWA). The fourth and final draft was presented to the Foreign Affairs Policy Committee of the Government of the Union of Myanmar for approval on 11 April, 2007.
5. As a follow-up to the recommendation of the CEDAW Committee on Myanmar's initial report, MNCWA collected the disaggregated data and indicator on various areas, such as population, family in household, education, health and violence against women, economy, employment, decision-making, environment, media and culture, with the collaboration of the Governmental Departments, INGOs and NGOs. As a result, MNCWA published "Gender Statistics in Myanmar" in 2001.
6. In 2005, MNCWA published "Gender Statistics in Myanmar". It was updated and published again in 2006 with the collaboration of the Myanmar Women's Affairs Federation.
7. The MNCWA has a plan to collect data disaggregated by sex and age, and urban and rural women pertaining to the areas of the Convention for publication from time to time. In fact, it is necessary to establish a data collection mechanism which requires technical, financial and human resources to update data systematically.
8. The MNCWA has widely disseminated the concluding observations in respect of the initial report at its special and regular meetings. The concluding comment was distributed to members of MNCWA, respective ministries, departments and NGOs for follow-up actions.

9. The MWAF and MNCWA organize meetings, talks and seminars at the grass-root levels for awareness-raising on trafficking, and violence against women. The topic on gender equality is also discussed in this respect.

10. To widely reach the message of implementation of Women's Development and Safety task, MWAF has published "May Myanmar" journal monthly and "Myanmar Women Affairs" magazine annually.

11. During the events in September and October 2007, 332 women including only one Buddhist nun were detained temporarily for investigation. Among those who were questioned, there was no pregnant woman and 329 women were released soon after questioning. The remaining 3 were involved in criminal offences and had been prosecuted according to the existing law. Those serving prison term are allowed family visit, necessary medicine and other needs in accordance with the prisons manual.

Constitutional, legislative and institutional framework and status of the Convention

12. Regarding the status of the Convention, it is directly applicable. However, there are no cases yet where the Convention has been cited in courts.

13. The constitutional drafting process was completed on 19 February 2008. Subsequently, the Referendum Law for the Approval of the Draft Constitution was enacted and the Commission on Convening National Referendum was formed on 26 February 2008. The National Referendum for the approval of the Constitution was held on 10 and 24 May 2008. The Constitution was approved by 92.48 per cent. In accordance with the State Constitution, the multi-party democracy general elections will be held in 2010.

14. In chapter 8 of the Constitution, "Citizen, Fundamental Rights and Responsibilities of Citizens", paragraph 348 stipulates that "The State undertakes to ensure that any citizen will not be subject to discrimination regardless of race, native, religion, position, status, culture, gender or financial status."

15. The Myanmar National Working Committee for Women's Affairs (MNWCWA) was formed to carry out the activities for the advancement of women in accordance with the policy laid down by the MNCWA. As the activities are limited to committee members, it is not possible to implement the policy effectively. In order to implement the policy of the MNCWA at the grass-roots level the Myanmar Women's Affairs Federation was formed on 20 December 2003.

16. The President and the General Secretary of the Myanmar Women's Affairs Federation (MWAF) are members of the Myanmar National Committee for Women's Affairs (MNCWA).

17. The MWAF has laid down seven objectives for the protection and advancement of women. The State, Division and village tract level organizations are implementing the activities within the guideline set by MNCWA.

18. The MWAF is partly funded by the Government. The fund-raising ceremonies and activities are organized to raise fund from well-wishers and volunteers. The MWAF also runs some small scale business to generate its fund.

19. Regarding the human resources, most of the women intelligentsia from the various Ministries are voluntary members of the Federation. They actively participate in the activities of the Federation apart from their main duties. The Ministry of Social Welfare, Relief and Resettlement, Ministry of Home Affairs, Ministry of National Races Affairs and Border Areas Development have attached their staff members full time to assist the Federation in administrative functions.

20. The Myanmar Human Rights Committee was formed by the State Peace and Development Council on 21 April 2000. The Committee was renamed as, Myanmar Human Rights Body on 14 November 2007 with 5 Patrons, a Chairperson and 18 members.

21. Myanmar women who wish to complain about gender-based discrimination can send letters of complaint to MWAF. The Federation has formed groups for screening and reviewing of complaint letters at the Central, State, Division and District levels. The groups screen the letters and forward them to the department concerned for necessary action. In some cases, MWAF provides free legal assistance and advice to complainants. Cases on domestic violence are handled at the counseling centers in each Division.

Stereotypes and discriminatory cultural practices

22. One of the objectives of MWAF is to instill and foster in Myanmar women a greater appreciation of their cultural heritage, traditions and custom and it is in line with the Convention. The objective aims at preservation of cultural heritage of all nationals residing in the country without discrimination. To fulfill the objective MWAF has organized talks, trainings and cultural shows.

23. Myanmar women keep and abide by two values, i.e. “Shame” and “Fear”. Shame (Hiri) means being ashamed of immorality and Fear (Oattapa) means fear of doing evil. These two values are practiced by all Myanmar nationals. Children are taught these two values as moral lesson. The values are not discriminatory cultural practices and are not contrary to the Convention.

The Law even protects women in preserving the two values “the Shame” and “the Fear”. A person who forces or persuades a woman to behave in an improper way or to feel shame shall be punished with two-year imprisonment or with fine.

Violence Against Women and Trafficking

24. According to the National Action Plan adopted in March 2002, the sub committee on violence against women of MNCWA has implemented various activities, such as organizing educative talks on violence against women, opening counseling centers, receiving complaint letters and disseminating laws protecting women through media. Since 2003, MWAF has undertaken to review the complaints and renders assistance to victims of domestic violence.

25. In the Myanmar Penal Code a man is said to commit “rape” if the offence be committed to the wife who is below the age of thirteen years. If she is not his wife who is below fourteen years of age whether she gives consent or not cannot be accepted as a defence. However, if she is over fourteen years of age, if no consent is given the accused can be convicted.

The definition of “Rape” under the Myanmar Penal Code is as follow:

Definition of Rape

The Penal Code Section 375: A Man is said to commit “rape” who, except in the case hereinafter excepted, has sexual intercourse with a woman under circumstances falling under any of the five following descriptions:

- |           |   |
|-----------|---|
| First     | Against her will.   |
| Secondly  | Without her consent.  |
| Thirdly   | With her consent, when her consent has been obtained by putting her in fear of death or of hurt.  |
| Fourthly  | With her consent, when the man knows that he is not her husband, and that her consent is given because she believes that he is another man to whom she is or believes herself to be lawfully married. |
| Fifthly   | With or without her consent, when she is under fourteen years.  |
| Exception | Sexual intercourse by a man with his own wife, the wife not being under thirteen years of age, is not rape.   |

26. In Myanmar, no body is above the law. Whoever commits sexual violence, including rape, against women and girls shall be punished according to existing laws. For law enforcement and military personnel, verdicts are more stringent as they shall be prosecuted in accordance with the military rules and regulations. The members of the Myanmar Women Affairs Federations at various levels stand ready to help a woman or girl who suffers domestic violence physically and psychologically and to bring perpetrators to justice.

27. In police custody, regarding female suspects, only female staff will do searching and guarding, keeping in designated place, and regard to decency, female suspects can be securely kept in custody without handcuffs according to the police manual.

28. In Myanmar, there are no political prisoners. Persons who have breached the prevailing Laws are detained in prisons.

- (a) The quarters of female prisoners are separated from the compounds of male prisoners. Only female staffs take responsibilities regarding female prisoners and to the compounds male staffs are prohibited from entry. Superintendent and the deputy, while on inspection, are to be accompanied by female officials.
- (b) Majority of the prisons have been fitted with water purification devices and arrangements are made for supplying adequate purified drinking water. It is also in the process of fitting water purification devices in remaining prisons.
- (c) In the health care sector, medical doctors and nurses are appointed for the treatment of prisoners in the prison hospitals.
- (d) For the social development of prisoners, vocational trainings and standard education for prisoners are arranged. For the mental development, prayer sessions according to their religion, meditation sessions, chanting of Dhammasaca pavattana Sutta, sports activities, TV and video entertainments, playing of Dhamma recordings, Dhamma sessions by invited Sayadaws (Venerable monks) from outside, and regular family visits are arranged.
- (e) For those special case female prisoners who are detained in separate cells, they are allowed one hour walking exercise in the mornings and afternoons and to take bath. They are not asked to work in regular prison labour works.

29. Myanmar regards combating human trafficking as an national cause since 1997 and measures are being taken by Government departments, and organizations in cooperation with local NGOs, INGOs and United Nations agencies.

30. In order to enhance combating human trafficking, the Anti-Trafficking in Persons law was enacted on 13 September 2005 in accordance with international standards and stipulations of United Nations Convention Against Transnational Organized Crime and its Protocols which were ratified by Myanmar in 2004.

31. Pursuant to the Anti-Trafficking in Persons Law, the Central Body on Anti-Trafficking in Persons and various levels were formed on 11 February 2006. The Anti-Trafficking in Persons bodies are mandated to implement Prevention, Prosecution, Protections and Rehabilitation measures effectively in cooperation with governmental departments, organizations, INGOs and United Nations Agencies.

32. Myanmar Five-Year National Plan of Action to combat Human Trafficking (2007-2011) was adopted in December 2007. The NPA comprises 5 components, namely, Policy and Cooperation, Prevention, Prosecution, Protections and Capacity Building. The National Plan of Action is to be implemented through annual work plan. The implementation of NPA is being monitored by the National Task Force.

33. The 17 Ministries which are responsible to implement Myanmar Five-Year National Plan of Action have provided annual budget allocation for their respective activities. Moreover, United Nations agencies, international organizations, NGOs such as UNIAP, UNICEF, UNODC, IOM, World Vision (Myanmar), ARTIP, AFXB are also cooperating in the implementation of NPA through technical and financial assistances.

34. Since the enactment of the Anti-Trafficking in Persons Law, 239 cases were identified and 637 offenders were prosecuted. A total of 626 victims were rescued. Besides, 3 trafficking cases related to money laundering were identified and legal actions were taken through confiscating all proceeds of crime. The analysis of the trafficking cases in Myanmar, show that the majority were heading in to China and secondly in to Thailand. The purposes of trafficking are found as forced marriage, prostitution, and forced labour in industries.

35. Beside above mentioned 626 rescued victims, there were 553 trafficked victims who had been repatriated from destination countries. These returnees have been provided with necessities in the process of rehabilitation and reintegration, such as medical care, counseling, vocational training, job opportunities, social assistance, legal assistance for compensation in cooperation with local NGOs, international organizations, and United Nations agencies.

36. Myanmar is actively participating in combating human trafficking in cooperation with the international community. The MoU on the Asia Regional Anti-Trafficking in Persons (ARTIP) was signed in 2003 and the project activities are under implementation. The MoU on Coordinated Mekong Ministerial Initiatives against Trafficking (COMMIT) was signed in 2004 by Myanmar along with GMS 6 countries and Myanmar is actively involved in combating trafficking in persons in the region. As a member of ASEAN and BIMSTEC, Myanmar is implementing impressively the joint declarations against human trafficking. The MoU between Myanmar-Thailand and Myanmar-China on cooperation to combat trafficking in persons are to be signed in the year 2008.

37. There is no discrimination and restrictions on Myanmar women's further participation in public and political life. They can freely choose their own way of life and decide whether they will continue their career or not. Most of the Myanmar women prefer to do business of their own or work part time to support their families other than full-time career. In Myanmar, family is regarded as one unit. Husbands usually hand-over their earnings to wives and wives on their part to spend the income properly.

38. Nowadays, in order to achieve women's full and equal participation and representation at national and international levels, they are encouraged as before to further study and attending the international meetings. Husbands are also encouraged to take equal responsibility in caring the family.

Education

39. The Thirty-Year Long Term Education Plan (2001- 2031): In order to develop human resources that could contribute to the development of the country and in line with political, economic and social objectives, the 30-year long-term plan for basic education sector was adopted and is being implemented. Ten programmes will be implemented in the Basic Education Sector under the Thirty-Year Long-Term Education Development Plan. The programs concerning with CEDAW are as follows:-

- (a) Basic Education for All
- (b) Improving the Quality of Basic Education
- (c) Providing Access to Pre-vocational Education and Vocational Education at Different Basic Education Levels
- (d) Producing All Round Developed Citizens
- (e) Improving Non-Formal Education Activities

40. Implementation of EFA NAP (2003- 2015): In line with 30 Year Long Term Basic Education Development Plan, Myanmar EFA-NAP has been implemented since 2003 focusing on 4 main goals area such as (a) Access to and Quality of Basic Education (b) Early Childhood Care and Education (c) Non-formal and Continuing Education and (d) Education Management and EMIS.

41. The following are the tasks accomplished during the implementation of the Thirty-Year Long Term Basic Education Development Plan and EFA-NAP:-

- (a) Increasing the school enrollment rate of school going age children
- (b) Decreasing the repetition and drop out rates in all level of Basic Education
- (c) Improving the quality of teaching and learning process
- (d) Teaching pre-vocational and vocational school subjects at the primary and middle school levels
- (e) Conducting adult literacy campaign throughout the whole country including border areas by opening 3R learning circles and establishing community learning centres to accelerate continuing and lifelong education activities
- (f) No significant gender disparity in Education System

42. In order to develop Children aged 3 to 5 Years, the Ministry of Education opened preprimary classes in suitable Basic Education Schools in line with education promotion programme. Up to March 2008, there are 1,724 Basic Education Schools with preprimary classes attended by 36,525 children. The Department of Social Welfare has been established 63 pre-schools since 1955. Up to now, there are 8,110 children are nurtured in these schools. Moreover, the Maternal and Child Welfare Association gives helping hand to working mothers by establishing 1,457 nursery schools and 65,782 children are attended in States and Divisions.

43. In Myanmar society, women have equal right as men. The education system in Myanmar does not discriminate between boys and girls and treat them equally. In the basic education system, 81 percent of teachers are women, therefore, they are taking major roles in basic education sector. The number of girls and boys in basic education is almost equal. So, they have equal access to basic education. The number of girls attending the upper secondary level is more than that of boys. According to the literacy rate by gender, there is only a little bit gap between man and woman in Myanmar Society.

The following indicators and data are used to monitor and evaluate to achieve the Goals of CEDAW:-

(a) Gross Enrolment Rate and Net Enrolment Rate (2006-07)

No	Level	GER			NER			Remark
		Girls	Boys	Total	Girls	Boys	Total
1	Primary	88.3	89.3	88.8	82.1	83.0	82.5
2	Middle	45.2	46.9	46.0	42.0	43.6	42.8
3	High	30.3	27.6	28.9	28.2	25.6	26.9

(b) Retention Rate (2006-07)

No	Level	RR			Remark
		Girls	Boys	Total
1	Primary	67.1	67.8	67.4
2	Middle	78.8	75.1	76.9
3	High	99.6	95.1	97.3

(c) Transition Rate (2005-06)

No	Level	TR			Remark
		Girls	Boys	Total
1	Primary to Middle	71.7	75.0	73.3
2	Middle to High	95.6	88.7	92.1

44. There is no gender disparity in education program in Myanmar. In Basic Education Sector, there are 33 747 Schools in 1987-88 Fiscal Year (FY), however, in 2007-08 (FY), the number of schools is increased to 40 553. The percentage of increase is 20.17 per cent. Similarly, 5.23 Million students in 1987-88 FY is also increased to 7.96 Million in 2007-08 FY. In the Higher Education Sector, there were only 32 Universities and Colleges with the 134,000 students in 1988. The number of Universities and Colleges is increased to 158 attending by over 5,520,000 students in 2007-08. As there is no discrimination due to gender in education system in Myanmar, it is not necessary to allocate budget related only to women or girls. By equal ratio of boys and girls, it can be seen that budget for girls is half of the whole basic education budget. By increasing budget allocated to education sector, year by year and by more opening of the schools, colleges and universities, the students in basic education sector as well as higher education sector have more access to education.

45. The Higher Education sub-sector of the Ministry of Education is implementing plan for uplift of the quality of education and the development of human resource. Faculty and administrators are assigned and students are selected to attend courses based entirely on qualification and not on gender. The following table shows the number of administrative staff, faculty and students in the higher education sector according to gender.

Sir.No	Staff/Faculty/Student	Number		Percentage
		Male	Female	Male	Female
1	Administrative Staff	3428	6405	34.86	65.14
2	Faculty	1901	8890	17.62	82.38
3	Student	205038	292032	41.25	58.75

Health

46. The Myanmar Maternal and Child Welfare Association is all volunteered social organization. There are 64 central council members and 28 staff at the Headquarters. The Association has branches in all 325 townships throughout the country. Altogether 21,059 branches and 9,938,702 members. The members who have expertise in various fields voluntarily participate in the activities of the Association in health, education, economic and social sectors. It has its own independent fund which collects mainly from well-wishers, membership fees and income from its small business.

47. The health system had focused only on the conventional maternal, newborn and child care before 1988. After that period with the adoption of comprehensive reproductive health care in life cycle approach with emphasis on safe motherhood by ICPD (Cairo, 1994), Myanmar also disseminated the comprehensive reproductive health care into the conventional maternal and child health care programme. In accordance with the draft National Population Policy, birth spacing activities had been integrated into the family health care programme. The country has also tried to make considerable efforts especially through promotion of overall reproductive health with the aim of reduction of newborn, infant, child and maternal mortality. Myanmar Reproductive Health Policy was formulated in 2002 and approved by the Ministry of Health in 2003 aiming to attain a better quality of life by improving reproductive health status of women and men, including adolescents through effective and appropriate reproductive health programmes undertaken in a life cycle approach.

48. Myanmar Reproductive Health Policy has been formulated as follows:

- (a) Political commitment should be sustained to improve reproductive health status in accordance with the National Health Policy and to mulgate rules, regulations and laws on reproductive health.
- (b) Reproductive health care services and activities should be in conformity with National Population Policy.
- (c) Full respect for laws and religion, ethical and cultural values must be ensured in the implementation of reproductive health services.
- (d) The concept of integrated reproductive health care must be introduced to existing health services and programmes. Quality reproductive health care must be provided in integrated packages at all levels of the public and private health care systems.
- (e) Effective partnerships must be strengthened among and between governmental departments, non-governmental organizations and the private sector in providing reproductive health.
- (f) Reproductive health services must be accessible, acceptable and affordable to all women and men specially underserved groups including adolescents and elderly people.
- (g) Effective referral systems must be developed among and between different levels of services.
- (h) The development of appropriate information, education and communication material must be strengthened and disseminated down to the grassroots level to enhance community awareness and participation.
- (i) Appropriate and effective traditional medicines and socio-cultural practices beneficial for reproductive health must be identified and promoted.
- (j) Adequate resources must be ensured for sustainability of reproductive health programmes.

49. Significant progress in the health status of children has been found all over the country including far and remote border areas, after introducing UCI, CDD,ARI and other relevant programmes with substantial assistance from various agencies. Performance status and its impact, which have been carried out in order to improve health status of mothers and children are significant. It was recommended that the reduction of maternal mortality ratio is the result of improvement in antenatal care, such as delivery by skilled attendants, effective health education, counselling and efficient birth spacing service provision to all eligible couples.

50. Myanmar is also driving to achieve the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs), global targets 4 and 5 in maternal and child health with efforts to achieve in time. Approximately, 1.3 million women give birth each year in Myanmar, thus, intensive efforts have been put to improve maternal and newborn health (MNH) services through various activities, especially focused on safe motherhood. While increasing the recruitment of more midwives in the health system, trainings for skilled birth attendants are also carried out by capacity building of Auxiliary Midwife (AMWs) in their midwifery skill in order to have at least one skilled birth attendant in each village. Now, the ratio of midwifery skilled providers (including AMW) to village is 1:2. In addition, clean delivery kits are supplied to pregnant mothers during their antenatal visit to health centers or during home visits of midwives. For the provision of skilled care at every childbirth, MOH has been striving for the provision of a continuum of care to pregnant mothers which include good- quality midwifery care and first level of health care for the family at health post.

51. In Myanmar, the Ministry of Health ranks abortion as the ninth most important health problem (Ministry of Health, 1998) and the third leading cause of morbidity (Ministry of Health, 1993). According to the “Nationwide Cause-specific Maternal Mortality Survey”, carried out by the Department of Health in 2004-2005, death due to abortion-related complication was 9.86 per cent of all maternal deaths. Complications following induced and spontaneous abortion are responsible for up to 60.0 per cent of obstetric deaths recorded in hospital studies (Ba-Thike 1997). The National Population Policy (1993) emphasizes to improve health status of women and children by ensuring the availability and accessibility of birth-spacing services to all couples voluntarily seeking such services. In Myanmar, birth spacing programme has been started since 1991, providing through community-based distribution system.

52. According to the “Nationwide Cause- specific Maternal Mortality Survey” carried out by the Department of Health in 2004-2005, maternal mortality ratio was estimated at 316 per 100,000 live births at the national level and 89 per cent of all maternal deaths were reported from rural areas. The main causes of maternal deaths are shown in the following table.

Maternal death by cause and by urban- rural residence (Per cent)

No	Cause of death	Urban (%)	Rural (%)	Union (%)
1	Post-partum haemorrhage (PPH)	50	28.57	30.98
2	Eclampsia	-	12.71	11.27
3	Abortion related complications	12.5	9.52	9.86
4	Puerperal Sepsis	-	7.94	7.04

5	45-49	2	217	921.66
	TOTAL	71	22478	315.86

53. According to the “Overall and Cause-specific Under-Five Mortality Survey”, carried out by DOH in 2003, infant mortality rate was estimated at 49.7 per 1000 live births at the national level. The main causes of infant deaths and infant mortality rate are found to be as follows:

(a) Infant Mortality Rate by cause and by age

No	Cause of death	Age (<6 Month) (%)	Age (6-11 Months) (%)
1	ARI	21.76	31.89
2	Septicaemia	14.38	2.89

National AIDS Programme

54. National AIDS Programme has been implemented since 1989 under the guidance of the Ministry of Health. Since then, a planned national response was started and relevant Ministries, United Nations organizations, international and local non-governmental organizations and community based organizations have been implementing the five-year National Strategic Plan 2006-2010. The National Plan addresses 13 strategic directions which are most pressing needs of populations at greater risk and enhancement of the capacity of health systems.

55. AIDS is the disease of national concern and one of the most priority diseases in Myanmar. With this concern, the National AIDS Programme has initiated and led the national response to HIV and AIDS through implementation of 10 major HIV/AIDS prevention and care activities. The 100 per cent targeted condom promotion programme has been implemented for high risk populations since 2001 and has covered 170 townships. In line with Universal Access Approach, a total of 273,000 clients received counseling at 289 VCCT Centers during 2006.

56. PMCT services have been provided to prevent transmission of HIV to infants from HIV positive pregnant mothers since 2000 and have covered 115 townships and 38 general hospitals. During 2006, 182,688 pregnant women received pre- test counseling and 99,789 pregnant women agreed to HIV testing. Over 11,000 AIDS patients are being treated with ART therapy out of which 40 per cent are women and also received OI treatment.

57. HIV/AIDS prevention and care services are provided with gender orientation as the priority target groups for such services aimed at women as well as youth. HIV/AIDS awareness raising programs, life skills programs, reproductive health programmes for men and women of reproductive age are being implemented with various stake holders.

58. According to the three-ones principles, the National AIDS Programme is taking lead in the monitoring and evaluation system of national response. Standardizing the national indicators and prioritizing the target population and geographic areas are set up in accord with all stakeholders. The results of the national response are described in disaggregated figures on gender.

59. Based on the HIV/AIDS projection and demographic impact analysis workshop conducted in August 2007 using latest methodology developed by WHO and UNAIDS Geneva, it was noted that adult HIV prevalence in Myanmar reduced from 0.94 per cent in 2000 to 0.67 per cent in 2007. This figure is supported by the prevalence of sentinel groups from HIV sentinel surveillance survey which is conducted by the National AIDS Programme annually and represented for 34 townships.

60. The prevalence of syphilis testing among primigravida and multipara women declined from 3 per cent in 1993 to 1.8 per cent in 2006 and from 5 per cent in 1993 to 2 per cent in 2006 respectively.

61. The following table shown the annual budget of Health Sector in Ministry of Health and other Ministries for the fiscal year 2000-2001 up to 2008-2009.
