[Date received: 3 November 2014]

Part I

1. Please clarify to what extent the “Working Together” framework has improved coordination between the different government departments and institutions at all levels and indicate whether the State party envisages establishing a high-level coordination mechanism with a view to ensure adequate coordination of the implementation of the Convention. Please also assess the impact of the Human Rights Monitoring Committee under the Ministry of Gender Equality, Child Development and Family Welfare on the enjoyment of child rights.

1. The “Working Together” concept provides for bringing in together all stakeholders in children matters and promotes discourse on holistic child policy matters. It also provides a forum for the elaboration of Memoranda of Understanding regarding means and ways to collaborate in the handling of child abuse in an efficient and effective manner.

2. Memoranda of Understanding (MOU) have been signed between the Ministry of Gender Equality, Child Development and Family Welfare and 8 stakeholders forming part of the “Working Together” Committee; namely:

- (i) Prime Minister’s Office (Civil Status Division);

* The present document is being issued without formal editing.

 Owing to word-limit constraints, the information submitted in response to the issues raised in part III of the list of issues is contained in annexes that can be consulted in the files of the secretariat.

- (ii) Ministry of Local Government and Outer Islands;
 - (iii) Ministry of Education and Human Resources;
 - (iv) Ministry of Youth and Sports;
 - (v) Attorney General's Office;
 - (vi) Ministry of Health and Quality of Life;

3. Signature of the MOUs with the following three stakeholders will be made this year:
- (i) Ministry of Social Security, National Solidarity and Reform Institutions;
 - (ii) Police Department; and
 - (iii) Ministry of Tourism and Leisure.
4. The development and signature of the MOUs by various Ministries bear testimony to the firm commitment of the latter to adopt a multi-sectoral approach to improve service delivery to children victims of violence.
5. The meetings which are held provide the appropriate platform for parties' concerned; there are reviews of procedures regarding actions taken to sort out distress of children referred to the different institutions ranging from the Child Protection Services, Schools, Hospitals, Police stations, Social Security Offices, amongst others. These reviews of procedures are to ensure that there is no fragmentation in service delivery; the Rights of children are safeguarded and are attended to expeditiously and in a child-friendly manner.
6. The "Working Together" Committee provides a platform for on-going Capacity Building of stakeholders, sharing of best practices as well as reinforcing and developing a Child Rights/Child Centred mind set and culture in Organisations.
7. The "Working Together" Committee is being captured and restyled as the High Level Coordinating mechanism in the forthcoming Children's Bill.
8. As such, the "Working Together" Committee/High Level Coordinating panel is to ensure that the clarification and redefinition of roles of all stakeholders are enforced, so that each stakeholder reckons with its line of responsibility and accountability.
9. The National Human Rights Monitoring Committee is not under the aegis of the Ministry of Gender Equality, Child Development and Family Welfare but has been set up under the Prime Minister's Office. Meetings are held at regular intervals to monitor progress achieved on the recommendations of the Human Rights Action Plan including Rights of the Child by the relevant Ministry.
2. Please clarify to what extent the measures taken in the context of the National Human Rights Action Plan 2012-2020 have contributed to the implementation of all provisions of the Convention, and describe the progress achieved so far through the implementation of the Action Plan.
10. The recommendations related to the Convention in the Human Rights Action Plan are as follows:
- A Children's Bill to consolidate the various pieces of legislation covering all aspects of child rights. The Bill is in the process of being finalised at the level of the Attorney General's Office;

- A National Child Protection Strategy and Action Plan has been prepared by an international Consultant with assistance from the European Union;
- Preventive measures to combat child abuse have been strengthened through the Community Child Protection Programme, that is, the District Child Protection Committees (DCPCs) and Community Child Watch Committees (CCWCs). There are 32 CCWCs currently operating across the island that report cases of violence against children, create awareness and encourage community action and 9 DCPCs which act as a mediator between the community and the main institutions providing services for children. Since 2011 to date, 6830 children and 1212 adults have been reached through activities of DCPCs and CCWCs geared towards prevention of child violence;
- Since 2011 to date, 782 parents have benefitted from parental empowerment sessions organized to better equip them with appropriate parenting skills to cope with problems arising during the different developmental stages of their children;
- The National Children's Council has also conducted various activities with children with the view to sensitising them on child protection issues. Since 2012 to date, there have been 12,120 children reached through Children's Clubs and 19352 children were reached through creativity development programmes;
- The public awareness/sensitization campaign is maintained with a view to better sensitizing the community on the dangers of drugs and commercial sexual exploitation of children. Anti-Drug Support Unit (ADSU) and the Crime Prevention Unit have intensified its awareness campaign in collaboration with the community, schools and other NGOs as follows:

Year	No. of sessions held in Primary & Secondary Schools		No. of Students

12. Regarding the recommendation on the reform of the juvenile justice system, a draft Juvenile Justice Bill is currently under preparation. It is expected that this Bill will contain provisions for mediation between interested parties with a view to exploring diversionary measures as an alternative to prosecution of child offenders and for the filing of a probation report before sentencing of a juvenile offender.

13. It is to be noted that the Probation and Aftercare Service rehabilitates offenders in the community (probationers and offenders subjected to Community Service Order) and in semi-open institutions (Hostel and Home) and NOT in closed institutions.

14. Human Rights courses are being organized for young people between 16 and 18 years in collaboration with Prime Minister's Office in all the 25 Youth Centres.

15. Officers of the Youth Cadre have all followed an intensive course on Human Rights and Citizenship, organized with the collaboration of Prime Minister's Office.

3. Please indicate what measures, if any, have been taken to strengthen the independence of the Ombudsperson for Children's Office (OCO) and to provide it with adequate human and financial resources, including qualified and trained staff to allow for its effective operation. Please also clarify the steps taken to enable OCO to enhance its awareness-raising campaigns on children's rights, to monitor the implementation of the Convention including by investigating children complaints and to systematically engage in the review of any laws and policies pertaining to children. Please indicate to what extent children are aware of the mandate of OCO and have effective access thereto.

16. In line with Ombudsperson for Children's Act 2003, Ombudsperson for Children's Office (OCO) is a statutory and independent body and the Ombudsperson for Children has presently adequate powers and independence in her tenure of Office and capacity.

17. The Ombudsperson for Children has a quasi-judicial power. She receives complaints, summons witnesses, calls for documents and can compel witnesses to answer questions. She does not adopt an adversarial approach.

18. Staff has participated in the following: Training Course on Commercial Sexual Exploitation of Children, Seminar at Equal Opportunities Commission, Roundtable discussion on the Establishment of Ombudsperson for Children for South Africa, Early Childhood Care and Education Authority (ECCEA) "Early Years Teacher's Forum", Formation on "Audition des enfants victimes d'abus sexuels", "Strengthening Partnership to address child sexual abuse and teenage pregnancy in the community at Mauritius Family Planning and Welfare Association (MFPWA), "Les droits de l'enfant au coeur de l'action des médiateurs" in Morocco. Between December 2013 and July 2014, two Investigators have proceeded on overseas training for exposure on the Convention on the Rights of the Child.

19. As regards financial resources, the budget has increased by nearly 10%. Since 2011, four investigators have been appointed.

20. There have been, amongst others, two breakthrough activities to mark the 10th Anniversary of the OCO on the 10th of December 2013. The Office organised a Children's Advocacy Platform. 75 children from different NGOs participated in the activity and a stamp dedicated to children has also been issued, Mauritius is the 273rd country to have issued such a stamp.

21. From July 2013 to June 2014, the OCO organized 14 workshops for students to sensitize them on the 3R's: Rights, Responsibilities and Respect. Students from different institutions worked together and were satisfied with the procedures adopted. The problems of corporal punishment in schools were discussed with the directors of the educational zones. At the request of the Ministry of Education and Human Resources, officers of the OCO had a working session on positive discipline with the headmasters.

22. The OCO participated in the human rights campaign organized under the aegis of the Prime Minister's Office. The target groups were mainly NGOs and voluntary social workers.

23. A workshop was conducted by the OCO for 484 students from Form III and Pre-Vocational students. Training sessions have also been organised for Headmasters, Deputy Headmasters, Zone d'éducation prioritaire (ZEP) Clusters Coordinators and Parent Mediators, Pre-Primary teachers, Carers - SOS Children's Village, ECCEA on the role and mandate of the OCO as well as sensitisation programmes on Radio and TV on topics such as Right to Leisure.

24. The OCO carried out a survey on awareness of the role of OCO and the CRC in Mauritius, Rodrigues and Agalega. Following results, the OCO proposed to set up a children's committee to seek children's views regarding the best mode to communicate with them so as to reach as maximum children as possible.

- All officers working in RYC/CYC should receive proper training;
- Set up a halfway home policy, not only for orphans but for all children who are released so that they may re-integrate society;
- Isolation/solitary confinement should be prohibited;
- Both RYCs and the CYC should have full-time psychologists to work with the inmates.

25. As regards policies and programmes for Rodrigues and Agalega, the OCO has, amongst others, submitted a set of policies to be implemented by the authorities concerned. The Annual Report highlights "in extenso" the implementation of such policies.

4. Please provide information on the current status of a draft Children's Bill, taking into account the Committee's previous recommendation (CRC/C/MUS/CO/2, para. 11), and explain the reasons for the delay in its adoption. Please also indicate whether the draft Bill will include all principles and provisions of the Convention and whether it will cover respect for children's rights by all actors, including the business sector.

26. The draft Children's Bill is at the stage of finalization. Policy decisions, including the issue of prohibition of corporal punishment of children, have been taken on board. The draft Bill now proposes a provision prohibiting corporal punishment of children in all settings.

27. The draft Children's Bill is expected to incorporate the spirit of the Convention on the Rights of the Child (CRC), and include all the main principles and obligations under the CRC. However, with regard to Articles 37 and 40 of the CRC, the issues relating to juvenile justice shall be dealt with more comprehensively in the draft Juvenile Justice Bill.

28. Regarding the issue of respect for children's rights by all actors, there is a provision in the draft Children's Bill which sets out the principle that where any action is done or decision is taken (by anyone), in a matter which concerns a child, the person acting or taking the decision shall respect, protect, and promote the rights and the best interests of the child, respect the inherent dignity of the child, treat the child fairly and equitably, protect the child from discrimination, bear in mind the needs of the child for his development including any special needs of the child which may be due to disability, where appropriate, give a family member an opportunity to express his views, act promptly (as far as possible), and where appropriate inform the child of the outcome of such act or decision.

29. This process is a complex one that involves a series of consultations with various stakeholders.

5. Please provide updated information on the training programmes organized for judges, lawyers, law enforcement officials, personnel working in institutions and places of detention, teachers and other professions working with children in various parts of the country between 2011 and 2013. Please indicate whether the Convention on the Rights of the Child has been integrated in the teacher-training curriculum and in the school programmes for all children.

33. The Institute equally devises, organises and conducts Continuing Professional Development Programmes for each of the three branches of the legal profession with a view to broadening the knowledge of law practitioners and legal officers in order to keep them abreast of developments in the law as well as encouraging them to share experiences and to enhance their professional skills. Induction courses are also organised for those who wish to be considered for appointment as a Judge, Magistrate or a legal officer. The Institute of Judicial and Legal Studies is equally conducting courses on human rights issues.

34. The Prime Minister's Office which has the responsibility for the portfolio of Human Rights has since 2011 embarked on sensitization and training programmes targeting the whole population. The following programmes are organized and in each of these programmes, civil and political rights are covered:

The terms of reference have been finalized by the Prime Minister's Office, the Ministry of Education and Human Resources and the Commonwealth Secretariat and the implementation of the project will start in the 4th quarter of 2014.

35. At tertiary level, Human Rights Education already forms part of the curriculum of LLB courses. Human Rights are an essential component of training of Police and Prisons Officer. The University of Mauritius has also started a new LLM in International Human Rights Law as from academic year 2013-2014.

(a) Promotion of human rights awareness through the mass media

(i) The Prime Minister's Office in collaboration with the National Human Rights Commission and the Mauritius Broadcasting Corporation presents a series of TV programme on human Rights in order to sensitise the population about their human rights as provided in the Human Rights Conventions of the UN System. 36. In June 2012, the Office of the Director of Public Prosecutions (ODPP), in collaboration with the Embassy of the United States, organised a 3-day training workshop on the theme of "Child victims and witnesses in the criminal justice". The training was provided by Mrs Tara Neda (Assistant United States Attorney for the District of New Mexico), Mrs Stephanie Knapp (FBI agent) and Mr Stacey Smielada (Special Agent of FBI). Mrs Tara Neda addressed various issues involving a child victim/witness in a criminal case. She also made some recommendations on how to improve the criminal justice system to prevent secondary victimisation of child victims/witnesses. Mrs Knapp talked about the principles governing forensic interviewing of child victims/witnesses. Mr Smielada, on his part, dealt with the interviewing of accused parties. Officers of the ODPP, defence counsel, lawyers from the Attorney General's office, judges, magistrates, Child Development Unit officers and police officers participated in the interactive training workshop. At the end of the training, members of the judiciary and the ODPP agreed to set up a fast-track procedure for sexual offence cases involving child victims.

37. Accordingly, in more serious cases, pre-trial conferences have been held to identify all relevant issues pertaining to a sexual offence case. A special coloured file is being used for such cases in order to allow ODPP officers to immediately identify the file as a case involving child victim so that they can deal with it diligently. When the case is scheduled for trial, two separate dates are earmarked. The first one is to hear all formal witnesses and the second one is fixed to hear the child victim only so as to prevent the latter from waiting in court for a long time.

38. Furthermore, following a request from the Child Development Unit, the ODPP has agreed to provide training on issues pertaining to the prosecution of cases involving child victims/witnesses. A syllabus has been set out and the training is due to start early 2015.

Please also explain the measures taken to ensure that children of incarcerated parents are not discriminated against in any way.

43. The Equal Opportunities Act was proclaimed on 01 January 2012 and has been in force since then. The Equal Opportunities Commission which was set up on 24 April 2012 is the embodiment of the clear commitment of Mauritius against all forms of discrimination.

44. The Commission has, inter alia, the following duties:

- (a) work towards the elimination of discrimination, and the promotion of equality of opportunity and good relations between persons of different status;
- (b) the duty of conciliation following an investigation with respect to a well-founded complaint;
- (c) conduct research and educational programmes for the purpose of eliminating discrimination and promoting equality of opportunity and good relations between persons of different status; and

(d) prepare codes and guidelines for the avoidance of discrimination.

45. The aim of the Commission is to ensure that people (including children) are not denied equal opportunities and are not subject to discrimination based on their status including their impairment.

46. Under the Equal Opportunities Act, a direct or indirect discrimination is a less favourable treatment on the basis of status. The definition of “status” includes caste, ethnic origin, colour, creed, place of origin and race thereby further buttressing the safeguards against all forms of racial discrimination. The Equal Opportunities Commission fulfils the role of watchdog. The aim of the Equal Opportunities Commission is to eliminate discrimination in all sectors. The Equal Opportunities Commission not only examines and investigates complaints referred to it but equally investigates “proprio motu” into cases where it believes that an act of discrimination may have been or may be committed.

47. The Act further provides for three types of discrimination: (i) direct discrimination, (ii) indirect discrimination and (iii) discrimination by victimisation. Any act of discrimination under the Act needs to be based on the “status” of the person. The definition of “status” which sets out an exhaustive list of 12 protected grounds under the Act, includes impairment. As such, any person (including a child) who feels that he/she may have been discriminated against on the basis of his/her impairment, may lodge a complaint at the Equal Opportunities Commission (hereinafter referred to as the “Commission”), set up under the Act.

48. This Commission has dealt with two cases of discrimination involving children with disabilities. Both of these cases were conciliated and settled to the satisfaction of the children’s family and the Commission.

(a) Education of Children who are “in conflict with the Law”

49. The education of children “in conflict with the law” in Mauritius is placed under the responsibility and guidance of the Mauritius Prison Service, with the help of the Ministry of Education and Human Resources, confirming the value attached to education in places of detention. The Mauritius Prison Service provides competent teachers, seconded for duty by the Ministry of Education and Human Resources, to teach in juvenile detention facility. The programmes are offered mostly in academic fields including English, Mathematics, French, Information Technology and Music. Non-formal or extracurricular education involves entertainment, sports, educational and social activities. Children placed in rehabilitative institutions are given the opportunity to access quality education as part of the process that will improve their reintegration into society after release.

50. An external and independent body which includes, psychologist, prison welfare officer, social workers and educators, known as the Board of Visitors, is in place to provide basic social and psychological support, to incarcerated juveniles.

(c) Children of incarcerated parents

51. Children are allowed to stay with their mothers in prison until the age of five in order not to deprive them from motherly care. During their stay in prison, the Prison authority provides all the basic needs of the child, including toiletries, transport, medical facilities and special meals. A special unit, Mother and Child Care Unit has been set up to cater for the children and their mothers. Furthermore, the children attend a Day Care Centre within the prison compound and public schools where they socialize with children from the community. For those children who are outside of the prison, extra-curricular activities and social functions are regularly organized.

(d) Children in Street Situation

52. The Ministry of Gender Equality, Child Development and Family Welfare (MGECDWF) is assisting the NGO SAFIRE in the rehabilitation of 23 children in street situation. SAFIRE has benefitted funds, from the MGECDWF under the Special Collaborative Programme For Women And Children in Distress, for the purchase of a 15 Seated Van in order to facilitate the transportation of 20 street children from different parts of the island to enable them to attend the educational farm training offered by SAFIRE on a daily basis.

53. Cases referred to the Ministry by SAFIRE are also attended to according to their specific needs.

7. In the light of the previous recommendation (CRC/C/MUS/CO/2, para. 32), please explain what measures have been taken to ensure that the rights of the child to express his/her views fully are guaranteed in all administrative and judicial proceedings, especially as concerns divorce or separation of parents and custody, in schools and in society in general.

54. Article 264, alinea 2 of the Code Civil Mauricien provides that when deciding on matters of custody in cases of divorce or separation of parents, the Judge may hear the minor child, thus giving him an opportunity to express himself, and consider the wish of the child before reaching a decision.

55. Furthermore, under Section 18 of the Divorce and Judicial Separation Act, when the Court grants a decree of divorce or judicial separation, it shall make a custody order with regard to any minor child, and when making such order, it shall have regard to the interests of the child as the first and paramount consideration. Section 18(4) specifically provides that in determining the interests of the child, the Court shall inquire into the circumstances of the case and shall for that purpose hear the child if the child is above the age of 10 and capable of discernment.

56. Section 109 of the Criminal Procedure Act provides that in every trial of an offence charged as having been committed, or attempted to be committed, upon a child of tender years, the child, if under the age of 9, shall be admissible as a witness, where the Judge or Magistrate by or before whom the case is tried, is satisfied that he has sufficient intelligence to make a correct statement on the subject of the trial, although he may not understand the nature of an oath or of a solemn affirmation.

57. A child who is heard as a witness under section 109, shall not be examined on oath or solemn affirmation. The child shall be required before giving evidence, to make, in presence of the Judge or Magistrate, a promise to speak the truth in terms of the First Schedule to the Criminal Procedure Act.

58. The evidence given by a child under sections 109 and 110 shall be regarded in all respects as that of a witness lawfully admitted in the cause, and it is for the Judge, Magistrate, or Members of the Jury, as the case may be, by whom the truth of the charge is to be decided to determine what credit, if any, should be given to that evidence.

59. If a child commits a serious offence at school, he will be brought in front of the School Disciplinary Committee, consisting of the Head of School, Educators, Usher and the Head Boy or Head Girl. The child has the right to express himself and give reasons to justify his behaviour. The Committee will listen to him and decide on action to be taken. His parents may be summoned and advice/counselling is given to the child before taking any type of disciplinary measures. Very often, first time offence is not sanctioned but the child may be given severe warning which is recorded in his file.

Child Participation

60. Consideration is being given to have a specific provision on child participation in the draft Children's Bill. This provision provides that every child who is of such age, maturity and stage of development as to be able to participate in any matter concerning him shall, so far as appropriate, have the right to participate in the matter and any views expressed by the child shall be given due consideration.

61. In 2012, in the context of the 16 Days 16 Rights Campaign, the NCC organised an Interactive Session on "Lets Listen to our Children" with 60 children from Secondary Institutions, whereby they were provided the platform to express themselves on specific issues related to their holistic development.

62. The National Children's Council is envisaging to set a National Children's Forum for children aged 12 to 15 years. The objectives of this Children's Forum among others are:

(a) To serve as a National Interactive Children's Platform in Mauritius through Solidarity, tolerance respect and Social Justice;

(b) To foster peer interaction among children in a spirit of fun and playfulness where children will enjoy the learning processes.

63. The School Child Protection Clubs (SCPC) has been set up in 2010, a multi-staged holistic project which aims at initiating home grown protection clubs for children by children at the level of school itself.

64. The objectives of the SCPC, among others, are:

- To curtail indiscipline/misconduct;
- To encourage the development of a violence free and child friendly school environment;
- Ensuring that the child is aware of his/her rights and responsibilities.

8. - (i) Their rights and responsibilities;
- (ii) What constitutes sexual abuse;
- (iii) Types of behaviour likely to cause or place them at risk;
- (iv) Relevant laws/instruments on sexual abuse; and

(d) A Protective Behaviour Programme is carried out by Police for primary school children where pupils are explained about good and bad touch and a copy of “Le Toucher Booklet” is distributed to pupils; and

94. The Police conduct enquiries into reported cases of sexual exploitation of children. Upon completion of these cases, these are forwarded to the Director of Public Prosecutions, for advice. Where warranted, proceedings are initiated against the accused.

95. In March 2013, the Office of the Director of the Public Prosecutions (ODPP) launched a booklet called “Tanya so Zistwar”. The booklet was published in Creole language. It is the story of a girl, victim of sexual abuse. The booklet explains in a plain language the steps to be taken when sexual abuse upon a child has occurred. Some 10,000 copies of the booklet have been distributed to students from secondary schools around the island.

96. In September 2014, officers from the ODPP made two presentations to the non-governmental organisation “Mouvement d’Aide à la Maternité” on sexual abuse. Accordingly, copies of “Tanya so Zistwar” were also distributed.

97. In October 2014, the ODPP will launch an informative leaflet on domestic violence which will be published in French, English, Creole and Braille. The leaflet will provide practical information to victims of domestic violence.

98. With regards to perpetrators of sexual offences, accused parties are prosecuted before the Intermediate Court in the majority of cases. As far as the remaining cases are concerned, the case may not be proceeded with if there has been a withdrawal by the declarant or if the evidence is weak.

99. A tailor-made Junior Life Skills Education Course is organized by the Ministry of Youth and Sports, in collaboration with the National Empowerment Foundation for children of various less privileged regions. Modules on Sexuality, Self Esteem, Values, Parenthood, Healthy Lifestyle, etc are presented/taught mainly through activities and games.

11. Please clarify the measures taken to provide families who have difficulties in the upbringing of children with necessary support, including parental and counselling services. Please explain what steps have been taken, if any, to remove the possibility for parents, under the Juvenile Offenders Act (Section 18), to place a child in a rehabilitation youth centre on the basis of an oath before a juvenile court that a “child is beyond control”.

Measures taken to provide families who have difficulties in the upbringing of children with necessary support, including parental and counselling services:

100. At the level of the Ministry of Education and Human Resources, counselling services are offered by Educational Psychologists and the Educational Social Workers who provide psychological assistance and support and promote the general welfare and wellbeing of children and families for proper care and upbringing. These Officers provide help, support, counselling and guidance to pupils and students and family members to ensure a protective environment for the child. The Educational Social Worker establishes school/ Home links and conduct home visits and give practical advice and guidance on proper development and upbringing of the child. The Ministry also networks with other Ministries and institutions catering for the general welfare of children and their families and families requiring special attention and care.

101. At the level of both the Child Protection Services and the Family Support Bureau (Ministry of Gender Equality, Child Development and Family Welfare), professionals offer parental counselling to parents having difficulties with respect to upbringing of their children. The Child Mentoring Programme provides the opportunity and the means to assist children aged between 10 to 16 years, suffering from mild behavioural problems. The support of child mentors as role models enables these child mentees to be empowered and equipped with necessary skills for the latter to build a constructive relationship with their families and the society. The Child Mentoring Programme enables families to consider as an alternative solution the possibility to place their children under such programme to prevent the latter from becoming “child beyond control” and thus committed to Rehabilitation Youth Centre. During sessions between the child mentors and child mentees, activities are carried to build up their sense of creativity and develop their emotional capabilities to face life. Psychological support is also provided to child mentees and their respective families as and when required.

102. The Probation and Aftercare Service, which is under the aegis of the Ministry of Social Security, National Solidarity and Reform Institutions, offers counselling services to parents who have unruly children. The Service also organizes talks on such subjects also “roles and responsibilities of parents” and “interpersonal relationship in the family”. It is felt that it is more appropriate to use welfare rather than a justice-based approach to deal with “children beyond control”.

103. The Ministry of Social Integration and Economic Empowerment through the National Empowerment Foundation (NEF) provides parents with various support such as payment of school fees, transport, daily meals as well as follow- up by social workers. Life skills education sessions are also organised for beneficiaries of the NEF to enable them to better deal with problem that can arise with their children and families. Moreover, nine day care centres have been set up by the NEF to provide child care services to enable mothers from low income families to join the workforce.

104. The draft Children’s Bill envisages to repeal section 18 of the Juvenile Offenders Act, and to deal with this category of children as persons who are in need of care and protection. Consideration is being given to establish a procedure for a finding of irreconcilable difference between a person who has custody of the child and the child, where the difference is of such a nature as to seriously disrupt the care and control of the child.

12. In relation to the situation of children separated from their parents, please provide information on the measures taken to enhance alternative care options outside institutionalisation, on the alternatives to avoid placement of children under three years in institutional care as well as on the monitoring mechanisms to control the quality of residential care institutions. In addition, please explain how children are assisted in maintaining contact with their incarcerated parent.

105. As an alternative to institutionalisation, children victims of abuse are placed in Foster families in a bid to provide them with a caring and supportive family environment. Whenever possible, arrangement is made for biological parents to visit their children who have been placed in foster care. In view of ensuring that quality care is maintained in Residential Care Institutions, the Ministry of Gender Equality, Child Development and Family Welfare has set up monitoring mechanisms as follows:

- (a) Visits carried out on a regular basis;
- (b) Surprise visits/ checks are effected;
- (c) Children interviewed and problem arising with minors are attended to;
- (d) Maintenance of a tidy environment in rooms, kitchens, toilets and wash rooms;
- (e) Menu checks so as to maintain a balanced diet;

(f) List of Do's and Don'ts has been worked out for management of Residential Care Institution to be adhered to;

(g) Mid-Term meetings are held with Management of Residential Care Institutions under the chairpersonship of the Minister to share best practices; and

(h) Prisons Welfare Officers with the support of officers of the Child Development Unit facilitate visits of children of incarcerated parents.

106. Children placed in Residential Care institutions including those with physical/mental disabilities are provided support in terms of Psychological, Psychiatric and Social Support. Rehabilitative activities are also provided through regular contact with parents in terms of supervised visits to facilitate the integration.

Assistance provided to children in maintaining contact with their incarcerated parent

107. Children are allowed to visit their parents who are incarcerated, either face to face visit or through video conferencing, and they can also get into contact with their parents through authorised phone calls. Some Non-Governmental Organizations have also been co-opted to help in maintaining the link between the children and their incarcerated parents.

108. Wherever possible, children who are under 3 years old are placed in foster families.

109. The Child Mentoring Programme is also relevant as it provides assistance to children displaying mild behavioural problems, and it allows for the follow up of these children by child mentors, without removing the child from his family environment.

13. Please provide information on the status of the draft new adoption and on other measures taken to ensure that the court decisions on adoption are substantiated by relevant information regarding the actual status of the child and of adopting parents in order to ensure that adoption is in the best interests of the child. Please also clarify how the prospective adoptive or foster parents are screened, how the adoptability of the child is established and whether any public authorized body oversees the whole process.

110. A National Adoption Council set up under the National Adoption Council Act of 1988 operates under the aegis of the Prime Minister's Office and is administered by a Board. The National Adoption Council enquires into all demands for adoption of Mauritian citizens from non-citizens and coordinates with official overseas agencies engaged in the adoption and welfare of children, and advise Government accordingly.

111. A draft Adoption Bill is being worked upon and it is envisaged to include the setting up of a new structure for the National Adoption Council (NAC) as the Central Authority, in the context of the domestication of provisions the Hague Convention on Protection of Children and Cooperation in respect of Intercountry Adoption.

112. Court decisions on adoptions are currently taken in compliance with the provisions of the Code Civil Mauricien (CCM). Article 353 of the CCM, which applies to both Adoption Simple and Adoption Plenièr, specifically provides that the Judge can grant the adoption only if all the conditions as set out in the CCM are met, and provided that the adoption is in the best interest of the child.

113. Regarding the status of the child, the CCM sets out which category of children are eligible for Adoption Simple and Adoption Plenièr (Articles 348 and 365 of the CCM respectively).

114. Standard Operating Procedures have been established administratively to identify adoptable children and for the screening of prospective adoptive parents to ensure that adoptions are effected in the best interests of children, both locally and internationally.

115. All applications for adoption have to be supported by affidavits sworn by the prospective adoptive parents, which set out their actual circumstances, those of the child, and if relevant, those of the biological parents. Such information allows the Judge to assess whether the adoption is in the best interest of the child. Also, all applications for adoption are invariably referred to the Ministère Public for its conclusions. The latter enquires into the application, through Social Enquiry reports and Police reports, to gather all relevant information to gauge the genuineness of the application, and to decide whether the adoption is in the best interest of the child. The Ministère Public then files its conclusions with the Judge, who takes same into consideration before deciding on the application.

116. The draft Adoption Bill, which is currently under preparation, is yet to be finalized because there are few important policy issues, which need to be creased out at the level of the Prime Minister's Office and the Ministry of Social Security, National Solidarity and Reform Institutions.

14. Please provide updated information on measures taken to develop inclusive education, including professional and vocational training for children with disabilities in all parts of the country and to ensure their fullest possible social integration without exclusion from other children. Please also provide information on measures taken to establish a national system of early detection, referral and intervention to assist children with disabilities and their families, and indicate whether children with disabilities placed in shelters receive social care or psychological support from sufficiently trained personnel.

117. In order to bring inclusive, quality and free primary and secondary education to children with disabilities, the Ministry of Education and Human Resources has taken a series of measures as listed below:

- Integrated Units have been set up in Government Primary Schools around the island. At present, there are 13 such Integrated Units;
- Schools are being retrofitted with ramps to facilitate access to classrooms in a phased manner;
- All new Secondary Schools constructed are provided with ramps and adapted toilets;

142. The eradication of poverty and social integration of vulnerable groups is high on the agenda of Government and the process to achieve these objectives started in May 2010 with the creation of a dedicated Ministry of Social Integration and Economic Empowerment to combat poverty in all its forms, improve the plight of our vulnerable citizens and ensure the process of economic democratization reaches every section of the population.
