Please identify any sustained and systematic action through programmes and awareness-raising to abolish the practice of polygamy.

5. Please indicate whether the State party has any plans to repeal laws criminalizing same-sex sexual conduct.

In responding, please indicate how such a situation is compatible with the Covenant and constitutional guarantees against discrimination.

10. Please respond to reports that a high proportion of the prison population is in pretrial detention and that it is not uncommon for detainees to wait two, three and even eight years for trials to begin.

11. Please provide additional information on measures taken to improve conditions in prisons and places of detention in the State party. In particular, indicate the measures taken to address overcrowding; inadequate hygiene and cleanliness as well as lack of water and adequate food; care for detainees with mental disabilities; and, co-detention of convicted persons and persons awaiting trial. Right to a fair trial (art. 14)

Please respond to allegations that constitutional provisions for a right to a fair trial are not always respected – in particular through restricting defendants' access to a lawyer, and harassment of defence lawyers - and that politically motivated prosecutions sometimes occur. In particular, please respond to allegations that the foreign attorney defending businessman Abdourahman Boreh against charges of terrorism as well as the foreign attorney defending Jean-Paul Noël Abdi, President of the Djibouti League for Human Rights, against charges of conspiring against the State, were denied entry into the country and were not allowed to have physical access to their clients.

Freedom of expression, freedom of assembly and freedom of association (arts. 19, 21 and 22)

16. Please respond to the information that the Government has almost complete control of the print and broadcast media and that there is no private press, due in part to strict age and nationality requirements for press ownership in the Freedom of Communication Law as well as delays in issuing licences due to the failure to create the National Communication Commission; access to certain news Internet websites has been blocked; opposition newspapers have been closed; free speech is limited through the use of libel laws; and there is a lack of political will to change the situation. Please indicate how the restriction on speech or assertions contrary to Islamic morals referred to in the State party's report is compatible with the Covenant? What is the State party doing to reform the press law and adapt it to democratic standards, eliminating prison terms for offences related to the press currently in the 1992 Freedom of Communication Law, providing credible regulation of the media and promoting the role of the private sector in a pluralist media? Please indicate the steps taken by the State party to investigate the complaint lodged by Farah Abadid Hildid on 19 February alleging police misconduct related to his arrest. Please respond to the allegation that on 2 July 2010, Ahmed Darar Robleh was arrested for writing poetry critical of the President and how this is compatible with freedom of expression. Please respond to allegations that the State party has curtailed freedom of expression and freedom of assembly in the context of the 2011 Presidential elections.

18. Please respond to claims that the State party fails to recognize independent representative trade unions, places certain restrictions on the activities and membership of independent trade unions, and has brutally repressed strikes and harassed trade union leaders and members. Please respond, with explanations, to the allegation that the police, upon instruction from the Office of the Prime Minister, prevented the Union of Djibouti Workers from holding a seminar on 13 October 2010. Please provide information why the State party did not support the recommendation in its universal periodic review to respect the rights of unions, especially by refraining from arrest and arbitrary detention of, physical violence against and harassment of union representatives and from preventing union action.

Rights of the child (art. 24)

19. Please indicate what steps the State party has taken to establish a juvenile justice system in accordance with international standards, and in particular a system of specialized courts for juvenile offenders, ensure that juvenile offenders are separated from adult offenders in detention, protect juvenile offenders from ill-treatment in prison, and develop alternative sanctions so that detention of juvenile offenders is for only short periods and as a last resort.

20. Please indicate the steps being taken to implement laws and policies established to protect children against economic exploitation including child labour, violence and sexual abuse, in particular in relation to street children.

Right to take part in the conduct of public affairs (art. 25)
