Committee against Torture

List of issues in relation to the second periodic report of Mauritania*

Issues identified for follow-up in the preceding concluding observations

1. In its previous concluding observations (see CAT/C/MRT/CO/1, para. 30),<sup>1</sup> the Committee requested the State party to provide information on the follow-up given to its recommendations formulated in paragraphs 10 (c), 22 (a) and (b) and 18 (a) of the document, concerning: (a) the repeal of the provision under which persons may be held in police custody for up to 3 consecutive periods of 15 days in connection with terrorist acts or threats to national security, and the strengthening of legal safeguards for detainees; (b) the improvement of the conditions of detention in all of the State party's prisons; and (c) the prosecution and punishment of perpetrators of acts of torture and ill-treatment. The Committee regrets that the State party has not provided the information requested, despite the reminder letter addressed to the State party by the Rapporteur for follow-up to concluding observations on 7 July 2014. The Committee considers that the recommendations contained in paragraphs 10 (c), 22 (a) and (b) and 18 (a) of its previous concluding observations have not yet been fully implemented (see paras. 3 (g), 16 (c) and (d) and 20 below).

Articles 1 and 4

2. In view of the adoption in 2015 of the new Act on Combating Torture (Act No. 2015-033), which criminalizes torture and sets out a definition of the crime in line with article 1 of the Convention, please provide updated information on the process of adoption of the implementing decrees pertaining to the Act.

* Adopted by the Committee at its sixty-second session (6 November–6 December 2017).

<sup>1</sup> Unless otherwise indicated, the paragraph numbers in parentheses refer to the Committee's previous concluding observations.

Article 2<sup>2</sup>

3. In light of article 4 of the new Act on Combating Torture, which enshrines all fundamental legal safeguards against torture from the outset of the deprivation of a person's liberty,<sup>3</sup> please indicate the measures taken to:

(a) Effectively implement the Act on Combating Torture in such a way as to ensure its primacy over older and more general legislation, according to the principles of lex specialis derogat legi generali and lex posterior derogat legi priori, as recommended by the Special Rapporteur on torture and other cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment;<sup>4</sup>

(b) Ensure, in practice, access to a lawyer from the outset of deprivation of liberty and in full confidentiality, for all detained persons,<sup>5</sup> including those held for offences related to terrorist acts and other offences against national security. Indicate whether the State party envisages amending the legislative provisions that conflict with article 4 of the Act on Combating Torture regarding access to a lawyer, particularly article 58 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, which stipulates that: (i) access to a lawyer is possible only after the first extension of police custody (48 hours or 72 hours for drug-related crimes) on the authorization of the public prosecutor, for half an hour and under police supervision; and (ii) persons held on suspicion of terrorist acts do not have access to counsel throughout the duration of police custody;<sup>6</sup>

(c) Expedite the adoption of the implementing decree pertaining to the Legal Aid Act (Act No. 2015-030). Please also indicate the measures envisaged to ensure that indigent defendants have access to an officially assigned defence counsel;<sup>7</sup>

(d) Ensure that all detainees enjoy, in practice, the right to contact the person of their choosing to inform that person of where they are being detained from the outset of their deprivation of liberty. Specify whether there are still cases of incommunicado detention and what the criteria for its use are;

(e) Ensure that detainees are informed of their rights, the reasons for their arrest and the charges against them;

(f) Ensure that all detained persons are informed of and may exercise, from the outset of their deprivation of liberty, the right to request a confidential medical examination by an independent doctor or a doctor of their choosing;

(g) Make the necessary legislative changes to ensure that the maximum duration of police custody does not exceed 48 hours, irrespective of the charges brought.<sup>8</sup> Specify whether the legality of custody is subject to appeal (habeas corpus) and indicate, for the period since 2013, how many detentions have been declared illegal or arbitrary by judges;

(h) Update existing logbooks to record the minimum information required under article 4 of the Act on Combating Torture, as recommended by the Special Rapporteur on torture.<sup>9</sup>

<sup>2</sup> The issues raised under article 2 can also be raised under other articles of the Convention, such as article 16. As indicated in paragraph 3 of the Committee's general comment No. 2 (2007) on the implementation of article 2 by States parties: The obligation to prevent torture in article 2 is wide-ranging. The obligations to prevent torture and other cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment under article 16, paragraph 1, are indivisible, interdependent and interrelated. The obligation to prevent ill-treatment in practice overlaps with and is largely congruent with the obligation to prevent torture. In practice, the definitional threshold between ill-treatment and torture is often not clear. See also part V of the general comment.

4. In view of the promulgation in 2015 of the Act establishing the national preventive mechanism (Act No. 2015-034)<sup>10</sup> and the appointment of members to the national preventive mechanism by decree on 20 April 2016,<sup>11</sup> please indicate the measures taken to:

(a) Increase the transparency of the procedure for the selection of members, and strengthen the mechanism's independence;

(b) Ensure that the national preventive mechanism has sufficient resources to fully carry out its mandate.<sup>12</sup>

5. With reference to the Committee's previous concluding observations (para. 13) and taking into account the adoption by the Senate on 19 June 2017 of the new draft organizational law governing the composition, organization and functioning of the National Human Rights Commission, please:

(a) Specify whether the amendments to the law strengthen the independence of the National Human Rights Commission.<sup>13</sup> Indicate what measures have been put in place to give effect to the previous recommendations of the Subcommittee on Accreditation of the Global Alliance of National Human Rights Institutions;

(b) Provide examples of recommendations made by the National Human Rights Commission relating to the prevention of torture and ill-treatment that have been implemented by the authorities during the period since 2013.

6. Please describe the measures taken to ensure that effective protection against intimidation, threats and arbitrary detention is provided for human rights defenders. Provide, for the period since 2013, statistics on the number of complaints of intimidation, harassment or arbitrary detention of members of civil society, the outcome of investigations into those complaints, and the convictions and sentences handed down in cases most likely related to their activities or to the fact that they had reported human rights violations.

7. With regard to the Committee's previous concluding observations (para. 23) and the information provided by the State party,<sup>14</sup> please provide further information on the measures taken to combat gender-based violence. Please provide, in particular, annual statistics for the period since 2013, disaggregated by type of offence, on the number of complaints of gender-based violence filed with and recorded by the police, the number investigated and, of those, the number that led to prosecution and conviction and on the penalties imposed in each case.<sup>15</sup>

8. With regard to the Committee's previous concluding observations (para. 21) and taking into account the adoption of Act No. 2015-031 on slavery, please comment on reports that a large number of members of the judiciary do not initiate investigations into allegations of slavery. Given that the new law on slavery provides for the punishment of persons who fail to follow up on a complaint, please indicate the number of prosecutions undertaken in relation to violations of this obligation since the enactment of the law. In this connection, please provide updated data, disaggregated by the age, sex and ethnicity of the victims, on the number of complaints, investigations, prosecutions, convictions and the nature of sentences since the consideration of the State party's previous report. Please indicate, for each year since 2013, the number of investigations conducted into such cases which automatically led to proceedings and the number of victims who obtained reparation.

11. Please comment on the reports that irregular migrants have been expelled to Senegal<sup>17</sup> and clarify whether those persons have been able to challenge the decision regarding their expulsion.

12. Please also indicate whether investigations have been conducted into the allegations of violence and even live fire against foreign fishermen on Mauritanian vessels by the brigade responsible for carrying out checks on foreign nationals and the Mauritanian coastguard, and if so, describe the outcome of those investigations.

Articles 5–9

13. Please indicate whether the State party has rejected, for any reason, the request of another State for the extradition of an individual suspected of having committed torture and whether it has started prosecution proceedings against such an individual as a result. If so, please provide information on the status and outcome of such proceedings.

15. In light of the Committee's previous concluding observations (para. 22) and reports that persons suspected of terrorism or a related offence are often held in unofficial detention locations for interrogation,<sup>22</sup> please clarify whether investigations have been carried out into the alleged use of unofficial detention centres, such as the basement of the police station in the fourth district of Nouakchott. If so, please describe the outcomes of those investigations. Please indicate whether the State has initiated investigations into allegations that Senator Mohamed Ould Ghadda, who was arrested at his home on 10 August 2017, and Mohamed Ould Israël, who was extradited from the United Arab Emirates on 18 February 2016 and is being held in an undisclosed location, are being arbitrarily detained.
